LABOR BOLTS CONFERENCE

Unions Are Defeated in The Final Vote—Future Undecided

GOMPERS'S SETBACK

Right of Bargaining Beaten, There is Nothing to Be Gained by Conference Says Leader.

The delegates to the labor group walked out of the Industrial Conference last night after a "last-stand" resolution recognizing the right to organize and to bargain collectively was voted down by the employer group. The public group voted with labor for the resolution, but it was defeated under the group rule.

Despite the secession of the labor group, Chairman Lane refused to consider the conference as ended. He announced last night that the conference would go on and said that the President would probably be consulted regarding further procedure.

While there are many who held that the defection of the labor group makes it useless for the conference to go on, the employer group announced that it is ready to proceed to the formation of a complete program for industrial adjustment.

The public group announced that it would proceed with the preparation of a report to the President. Member Spargo of this group introduced at the last minute a resolution to prepare the way for appointment of a committee to work out a co-ordinated program for dealing with the industrial situation.

Chairman Samuel Gompers of the labor group, sang the swan song, to quote his expression of the labor group's participance in the conference. He began his last speech by reading the resolution on which the labor delegates went down to final defeat.

FREDERICKSBURG NORMAL

The local members of the alumni association of the city and Spotsylvania County have organized quite an interesting chapter known as the 'Home Chapter." The object of the chapter is to begin an endownment fund to assist some worthy girl in continuing her education, to increase the social life of the girls, and to bring them closer together. Meetings are held once a month. The Mother Association would urge that other communities in which there is a justifiable number of girls, get busy and organize chapters.

The school opened its doors this year with the dormitories filled to their capacity, and many on the waiting list. The president A. B. Chandler, jr. made the opening address in which he set forth his ideals for the school. The school this year has established a faculty home in which many members of the faculty reside. in the delightful mansion which was the former home of ex-president Russell The home life of the school this year will be under a joint committee of the student government and a faculty committee.

SAVING SOCIETIES ORGANIZE.

For Public and Private Schools—Idea is to Teach Thrift

Clarence R. Attalt, of Cherrydale, chairman of the Government Saving Organization for this locality, has received copies of letters written by Governor Westmoreland Davis and State Superintendent of Public Instruction Harris Hart, giving high endorsement to the plan of the United States Treasury Department under which savings societies are being organized in the public and private schools of this district

Both Governor Davis and Superintendent Hart also favor the incorporation of a practical course in thrift in the schools, Governor Davis saying that in his opinion the general teaching of the saving principal in the schools of Virginia" would be a splendid thing."

Superintendent Hart considers it "absolutely essentially to teach children thrift." His letter, as was that of Governor Davis, was written to William R. Timmons, director of the Educational Department of the War Loan Organization, which has headquarters in Richmond. Mr. Timmons has a number of copies of text books on thrift which he will be glad to mail, he says, without cost to any teacher desiring them. The lessons are graded for elementary schools, high schools and for institute work.

LAST LAP OF JEWISH RELIEF CAMPAIGN

The Sum of $2,857.25 Has Been Collected Thus Far

DRIVE ENDS FRIDAY

Committee Appeals to all Citizens Who Have Not Yet Given to Do So at Once.

The Jewish War Relief Campaign will end tomorrow night. Thus far a total of $2,857.25 has been collected by the local committee. Alexandria's allotment is $5,000. This city, therefore, is $2,857.35 behind in its collection in this dirve.

An appeal is made by the committee to all citizens who have not yet contributed to the cause to send in their donations to either M. Ruben, B. Weil, or J. T. Preston, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

Inasmuch as the drive ends tomorrow night the committee expresses the hope that all citizens who can afford it will be represented on the list of contributors to this cause.

Like the wolves that prowl in their own native forests, the famished children of Poland, orphans of war, hunt in packs in city streets for chance scraps of food, and when found like wolves fight over crusts and crumbs. American Jewish Relief agents whose work carries them into the terrible slums of the Polish cities tell heart-rending tales of the attempts of these children to delay what seem to be inevitable death from hunger.

"I happened to visit an orphnage" one worker stated recently to Moe Levy, Virginia Chairman of the War Relief Campaign, "at a time when they were distributing food among the children. There had been nothing to eat at this home for a full day, and the inmates of the orphanage were weak from hunger and overcrowding. But even before the cart with the suplies arrived word spread among the starving street children that bread was to be distributed. What I saw stopped the blood in my veins. Hundreds of these homeless and famished urchins crowded the street. They collected on the steps and crept into the corridors of the buildings. At the beginning they only looked on; then they began to beg, and finally one snatched at the crust that a ravenous child was eating. With a rush, all the street children were within the room, clawing at the food and fighting with their teeth and nails—not loudly, but with grim and silent determination. The teachers were forced to drive off the pack that their Home orphans might not lose the last bit of their food."

"One needs a heart of steel to see such sights as this."

The American Jewish Relief Committee has already sent millions of dollars worth of food to this and other countries in a like situation. It is asking $35,000,000 of the country to continue its work through another year.

HORSE BURNT ON EVE OF RACE

Baltimore, Oct. 23.—Upon the stage when stories of the turf are enacted, there usually is a heavy man who "dopes" the favorites for financial gain or spite, but not so often do such cases come to light on real race tracks Just now Capt. Ral Parr is searching for the person who put his horse, Esquimau, out of commission.

Early yesterday it was discovered by his trainer, Billy Garth, that some one had entered the stall of this promising three-year-old at Laurel and poured some sort of blistering liquid upon the left legs of the umper, thereby rendering him useless as a racer for several weeks at least, and perhaps for the remainder of the season.

LABOR ISSUES

John P. Fitzpatrick, chairman of the strike committee, announces the railroad brotherhoods have sanctioned a walkout of employes about the steel plants in sympathy with the strikers.

Prevention by arbitration of the walk-out of 500,000 bituminous coal miners, called for November 1, seems impossible through Secretary Wilson will make another attempt today to settle the dispute.

A new fight by employes for higher wages and better working conditions is threatened with the prospect of a new crisis before the Government surrenders control of the roads.

All ships will be operated today even if soldiers are required to man them, it was announced last night. Fifteen thousand men remain idle.

Walker D. Hines succeeded in getting the strikers to return today on a promise of consideration of their case November 4.

PROBE GIRL'S DEATH KILLED BY CAR

Coroner's Jury Fails to Fix Responsibility For Miss Struder's Death

WITNESSES ARE HEARD

Testified Woman Walked in Front of Car—Funeral at Sharon Chapel Tomorrow.

A coroner's jury, summoned by Dr. T M. Jones, which met yesterday afternoon at Wheatley's mortuary chapel to investigate the circumstances attending the death of Miss Julia Delia Struder, who died from injuries sustained by being struck by a northbound freight car over the Washington-Virginia Railway gave a verdict to the effect that she died at the Alexandria Hospital October 22 at about 6 a. m., from injuries sustained by being struck by an electric freight train while near St. Elmo at about 6:45 p. m., October 21. The jury did not, however, fix the responsibility.

Edward V. Grove, motorman of the freight, was the principal witness. At the time of the accident he testified he was going down grade and his car was traveling at about twelve miles an hour, As he approached the abutment at that place the young woman walked in front of the train he said and she was struck, her head evidentally striking the rail of the adjoining track.

Others to testify were Carlee Marshall, colored, who is employed on the work train and Thomas Travers, claim agent for the road.

The funeral of Miss Struder will take place at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon from Sharon Chapel, Fairfax county. Services will be conducted by Rev. A. Wallis, of the Episcopal Theological Seminary. Burial will be in the cemetery at that place.

President Wilson will not abandon his efforts to bring capital and labor together.

He is prepared to go to the uttermost limit to avert industrial war. Within a short time new efforts will be made to repair the breach made by the break-up of the present National Industrial Conference.

When Chairman Baruch and the other members of the public group made a report to him, with recommendations it is expected he will take immediate steps either to reassemble the conference on a new basis or to assert the strong arm of the Government to stay a national crisis.

PROMISE HOT FIGHT

The ten Republicans in control of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee planned to add several reservations today to the ten they adopted yesterday, with Senator Shields, Democrat, of Tennessee, voting with them.

Renewed opposition to the majority reservations was promised by Senator Hitchcock, the Administration leader and ranking Demeratic member of the committee, who is being supported by the five other Administration Senators on it.

Hitchcock declared the Administration forces in the Senate would never agree to the reservations as adopted by the committee.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of our dear son, Edward Laycock, who died one year ago today, October 23, 1918.

Oh wake him not, sweet spirit, to suffer again,
He slumbers so soundly, oh let him sleep on,
His sickness is ended, his troubles are gone,
Think how he suffered, yet in all his pain,
So God in his mercy sent down from above,
An angel that whispered a message of love
Gone but not forgotten
In this world below,
Thy memory is just as fresh today
As it was a year ago.
253-1p. By his parents

In loving remembrance of our dearly beloved brother, Edward Laycock, who left us one year ago today, October 23, 1918,

He is gone but was so young and fair,
He slumbers sweet and knows no care,
His heart was true, this life was young,
Yet not our will, but God's be done,
His face, our minds will always see
Forgotten he will never be.
Gone in the best of his youth,
Right in manhood's bloom,
Torn from hearts that loved him
To sleep in a silent tomb.
253-1p Loving sisters.

In loving memory of our darling boy, Frankie, Kraft, who departed this life six months ago today, April 23, 1919.

Death has robbed us of our darling boy,
Of the one we loved so well;
Taken him from this world of sorrow,
Safely home with him to dwell.
When I saw my darling boy
Whom I tended with such care,
Slowly fading from my presence
How my aching heart despaired.
When the evening shades are gathering
And we sit all alone
In our heart there comes a longing
If our Frankie could only come home.

According to the report of the State Registrar of the Bureau of Vital Statistics, during the year 1918 there were 45,274 marriages celebrated in Virginia. During the same year theier were 3,696 divorces. Among the letters received by N. S. ECHO OF RECONSTRUCTION.

"George L. Seaton, the colored member of the House of Delegates from Alexandria, is said to be worth around $100,000."

The above was one of the paragraphs from the files of a Richmond paper of fifty years ago published yesterday.

George L. Seaton died on the 5th of July, 1881, and was buried the following Thursday, July 8th. One of the fiercest thunder storms ever experienced in Alexandria prevailed that afternoon. The horses attached to the hearse and carriages became frightened at the heavy peals of thunder and it was said at the time that lightning ran into the grave while the body was being lowered into it.

Seaton was one of two Delegates elected by Alexandria city and county to the Legislature which convened in December, 1869. James T. Close, his confere, who was a white man, died shortly after the election, and an election to fill his place followed. The republicans with their negro coadjutors were in the majority hereabouts at that time, and the democrats, then calling themselves conservatives, nominated the late Ruben Johnson, a mild union man, and the opposition party placed the late Robert Armstrong into the ring. Johnston was elected. Seaton served one term. He was defeated in the next nominating convention.

The statement that he was worth $100,000 will prove strange to some now living who were acquainted with him and his affairs. He was of a prominent free colored family, which possessed some property in Alexandria, in pre-war days, most of which was on south Washington street or Franklin street. He was of the old-style colored man, mild-mannered, courteous, in short a reflex of the white race among whom he was born and reared. At the close of his legislative career he opened a grocery store on the north side of King street, between Washington and Columbus, which proved a failure. He subsequently suffered a stroke of paralysis, which was soon followed by the second stroke which caused his death. Some of his descendants are still among us.

WHY STRIKES ARE UNPOPULAR

Twenty dargoes of sugar have been resting in mid river, or in the docks in New York city, untouched for a period of ten days on account of the longshoremen's strike who would not handle the sugar themselves or permit others to do so. In the meanwhile thousands of householders have either been without sugar or have been placed on an allowance.

Twenty-eight thousand sacks of foreign mail have been piled up in two large buildings in New York city awaiting delivery. Business men on both sides of the Atlantic are seriously handicapped by the non-delivery of that mail. It affects not only commercial interests, but the work of the Red Cross It delays relief intended for people on the verge of starvation. But it cannot be moved because of the longshoremen's strike.

Millions of persons throughout the United States who eagerly look forward to the weekly and monthly magazines have been deprived of the pleasure and the instruction which they obtain from these publications, because of the printers' strike in New York city. The national organization has disapproved this strike, but the men have quit just the same and as a consequence tens of thousands of other persons connected with the periodicals have been reduced to a state of idleness against their will.

For the first time New York city is experiencing the sensation of a dollar a dozen eggs. Maybe they would have reached this stage anyhow, but as a matter of fact the condition has been hastened by the expressmen's strike. At every breakfast table this is the subject of conversation.

As a contemporary says, "the strike epidemic is being brought home to the people in an uncomfortably direct way. It is one thing to feel sympathetic to struggling labor when it is being underpaid or unfairly treated. It is quite another matter when strikes are ordered for the purposes of asserting that might is right. It is evident that strikes are not popular now, and that means that the folly of the business is recognized by the people, by the consumers, who are the sufferers. No strike that is without popular sympathy can succeed. Therefore, it becomes only a question of time when the folly shall end, and the American people shall unite for a restoration of normal conditions."

SHOULD STAND BY PUBLISHERS

We again remind our readers that the fight which the business publications of New York are making in refusing to yield to the demands of outlawed labor unions is a fight for the preservation of American liberty. It is a fight in which every patriotic American is interested. These papers are doing a great work for the country; greater in refusing to yield to Bolshevistic labor unions than they could do if they were being published and aggressive editorially fighting in the cause of liberty against radicalism. The very fact that these papers have had to suspend publication should on itself awaken the enthusiastic commendation of the people of the whole country. They should have the unlimited co-operation of their subscribers and advertisers, who should not only stand by them to the utmost extent, but who should give voice through personal letters in commendation of what they are doing. The temporary inconvenience, serious as it is, suffered by many subscribers and advertisers is triflingly small as compared with what these papers are having to endure.

A letter from England tells how radicalism in that country has been hoping to bring about the control of every printing plant in Great Britain, and by strikes compel the suspension of every publication in Great Britain except those issued by radical labor unions, hoping in this way, if such a plan should ever be successful, to suppress all news other than that which radicalism desires to put out.

There is no doubt of the fact, we think, that the radical leaders in this country would gladly carry out a similar campaign if they could see any possibility of doing so. The strike in New York, which has forced the temporary suspension of about 250 publications, is an evidence of the spirit that is rampant in this element, and if it could force a strike of the same kind in every printing plant in America it would then have accomplished its purpose in destroying the power of the press to enlighten the nation.—(Manufacturers Record.

PREFERS VIRGINIA BIRTH

Nanny Langhorne Astor, Who May Sit in House of Commons, Defend American Birth

London, Oct. 23.—Nanny Langhorne Astor, famous on both sides of the Atlantic as a beauty, and a brilliant wit, was asked recently by the Conservative leaders of Plymouth to stand for election to the House of Commons to succeed her husband, Major Waldorf Astor, who, by the death of his father, William Waldorf Astor, becomes a viscount and a member of the House of Lords.

If she consents the celebrated sister of the "Gibson Girl" undoubtedly will be the party's candidate. Politicians consider her the strongest possible coalition candidate. Lady Astor is very popular, largely because of her philanthropic work and by her unconventionality. She has already made a name for herself, as an election worker by the energy she displayed in her husband's campaign, having amazed the people.

In one particular speech she shouted to some Socialists who were interrupting a meeting:

"You villians, shut up!"

Later she said: "Those who are trying to pull down Lloyd George could not manage a tripe shop."

Again, on another occasion, she said:

"Many people are yelling against the capitalists only because they want to get what the capitalists have got. As long as people are greedy and stingy, it's humbug to talk socialism.'

Defending her American birth, she said she would emphatically refuse to be born anywhere except in Virginia. When heckled with questions as to why she had not stayed in New York, she answered:

"What an idiotic question! There are slums everywhere and there are greedy people everywhere."

If Major Astor's wife refuses, his brother, Captain John Jacob Astor, may be considered.

AMERICAN ARMY SENDS BACK GERMAN PRISONERS

The American army abroad has repatriated the 37,000 German prisoners in the prison camp at Issy-sur-Fille, France, without waiting for the official ratification of the senate of the peace treaty. A big batch of the prisoners is here seen leaving the stockade.

ABLE TO DO MORE WORK

President Signs Four Bills, Among Them Anti-Profiteering Act

President Wilson was reported in good condition yesterday after his strenuous day of Tuesday when he dictated a long letter to the Industrial Conference and attended to several other governmental matters.

Yesterday the President performed other work. He signed four bills, the chief one of which was the anti-profiteering act, and today the prohibition enforcement act will reach the White House from the office of Attorney General Palmer, who has been examining it to determine whether or not it is valid. If he finds that it is, and the President signs it today, the nation will begin immediately to experience the sensations of being "bone dry."

The first bulletin on the President's condition was most encouraging. It said:

"The President has had a comfortable day.

PUBLISHERS ASKED TO MOVE

New York, Oct. 23.—Publishers who suspended operations as the result of the lockout and strike in the local printing industry were invited to consider plans for the publication of their periodicals outside New York city in a statement issued last night by John Adams Thayer, secretary of the New York publishers' committee. Mr. Thayer's statement followed a meeting yesterday of a committee representing publishers of periodicals and trade papers at which such action was endorsed.

Mr. Thayer stated that employing printers throughout the country have offered their services for the printing of such publications as the employing printers of New York are unable to issue owing to the strike. The New York publishers are advised to take up the matter with the printers with the statement says, have promised whom they have contracts, who, every assistance.

TO AVERT COAL STRIKE

Secretary Wilson Submits Proposal to Bring Factions Together

A last ditch effort to avert the strike of coal miners, which is slated to begin November 1 was made by Secretary of Labor Wilson last night when he submitted to representatives of both the miners and operators a plan he hopes will furnish the basis of a compromise.

The two factions will meet again today to decide whether or not they will accet Secretary Wilson's plan. This is what it is:

aaaaa STRIKE! m... mo dom od

"That the wages of the miners be increased at the expiration of the present contract an amount equal to the difference between the increase in wages received by the mine workers since July, 1914, and the increase in the cost of living since that date.

"That the increase be effective from the termination of the present agreement until March 31, 1920;

"That on these conditions the strike order be withdrawn.

"That the miners continue at work on these terms;

"That negotiations be entered in to at the usual time for making a new schedule to be effective after March 31, 1920."

If Mr. Wilson's plan is accepted it will amount to a temporary truce. The operators and miners will be able to meet on a common ground, however, and this is some thing they have not been able to do since the strike was first decided upon. If the operators agree to grant an increase, such as is suggested by Mr. Wilson, and this increase is acceptable to the miners, all danger of a strike this winter will have been obviated.

THREAT ENDS STRIKE

Men Vote to Return When Hines Talks of Troops

New York, Oct. 23.—A threat by Director General Hines to discharge 10,000 striking employes of the American Railway Express Company and to send troops to drive the wagons yesterday ended the strike which had seriously hampered business and travelers in New York city for nearly two weeks. Striking teamsters and chauffeurs voted to return to work today and await a decision by the wage board of the railroad administration to their demands, which is expected by November 4.

Mr. Hines had given the strikers until 6 p. m. Friday for night employes and 6 a. m. Saturday for day employes to return before declaring their places vaant and filling them. The vote to return was unanimous and was taken after the strikers heard the report of a committee which conferred with Mr. Hines in Washington. The committee reported he had told them that if his order to return to work was disobeyed, the attorney general, whose advice he had sought, would have troops sent to New York to take the strikers' places temporarily.

The Zabern Affair.

What is known as the Zabern affair occurred in the town of Zabern, Alsace, in November, 1913, and was the culmination of the brutal treatment of the populace by the officers and soldiers of the Ninety-ninth Prussian infantry, commanded by Colonel von Reuter. Lieutenant Baron von Forstner, the most notorious of the officers, had provoked several clashes between the soldiers and the citizens, and ordered the soldiers to bayonet any one insulting the German flag. He, himself, sabered a crippled shoemaker, which raised a great storm. He was tried and sentenced to forty-three days' imprisonment, although his conduct was strongly defended by Von Reuter. Both Von Forstner and Von Reuter were reported killed in Belgium early in the war.—Indianapolis News.

America's Store of Radium.

The total production of radium element in the United States up to this year is estimated at 55 grams. It was first produced in 1913, in which year 2.1 grams resulted; in 1918 the product was 13.6 grams. Charles H. Viol, writing in Science, estimates that the carnotite holdings of the Standard Chemical company should produce at least 300 grams of radium.

HOW LARGE SUMS CAN BE SAVED ON SERVICE

Most People Fail to Consider What Help in Home Really Costs in the Long Run.

In any plan for national economy British Specialists think that the household rather than the family should be taken as a unit. Under household consumption they include (1) services rendered maintaining the house and its inmates, (2) the goods consumed or acquired by the inmates, (3) the general charges of cleaning, decorating, offsetting deterioration, etc.

As a start in a saving program the British Commission has pointed out that services should be valued even more highly than goods, as each person doing unnecessary and unproductive work, not only consumes without producing, but is also depriving the country of possible productive power. Translated into terms of American saving, this service idea would mean, "Do not hire any one to do what you can do for yourself in spare time unless you find it directly profitable."

Few Americans are really honest with themselves as to the cost of services. Not one family in a hundred really knows what a servant actually costs. Most of them place the cost of her wages and fail to count in her food, light and other things she consumes. Most of them, moreover, have no way of figuring correctly the extra waste of food or extra breakage or wear and tear due to the fact that the servant does not have the interest of ownership for making things go as far as possible. Few families know at the end of the year the important total that the "odd jobs" man or hedge cutter or grass trimmer has cost them for service that might as well have been rendered as recreation or needed outdoor exercise by the man or boys of the family.

This, of course, does not mean that no service should be purchased. Where a housewife's time is worth more in money or other contribution to family well-being than the cost of a servant she makes a profit by employing some one who frees her to do better paid work than household tasks. In many cases physical or personal reasons make it essential to the welfare of the family to have help, but in many cases the time saved to the members of the household by servants is not utilized profitably in a monetary way or even in a way to make for real happiness or advancement.

Savings on service will give many people important sums to lend to their government and save for themselves through War Savings Stamps. In the case of children work is not only a practical means of earning and saving, but in itself is a valuable discipline for life.

BANKS ENTER FIGHT AGAINST BOND SHARK

Plan is Devised Whereby Person Who Must Sell Will Be Given Square Deal.

Bankers in all parts of this district have been asked to take part in the war which has been declared against the bond shark. The campaign is to protect the small holder of Liberty and Victory Bonds. Many of these people are being preyed upon by profiteers in government securities and by salesmen of so-called wild cat stocks. Government bonds, which are the best security in the world, have been traded for worthless stock certificates which never have and never will pay one cent in dividends.

While every holder of Liberty and Victory bonds is urged not to sell, the fact is recognized that some persons bought beyond their buying power and they now find that for one reason or another—good reasons no doubt—they must sell. Bond sharks have taken shameful advantage of some of these people, according to reports received, and the banks are now lining up to put an end to their activities.

If a man finds that he must sell his bond he should take it to the nearest bank where he will be given its full market value or if for any reason the bank prefer not to pay the cash the bond holder will be directed to a reputable broker.

The Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond has sent an official communication to every bank and trust company in this district urging their cooperation. The point is made that no criticism is aimed at the reputable broker who is legitimately buying and selling bonds and other standard securities, but a determined effort will be made, and indeed is now being made, to block the activities of those persons who by misrepresentation are preying upon the inexperenced bond holders.

BUDGETING CHILDREN

Budgeting children will teach them the value of money and often make them more careful of their clothes and shoes. It will also bring out certain traits of character that nothing else will disclose and enable parents to correct faults before they become fixed habits. Any child old enough to be entrusted with money is old enough to be given a specified amount to spend each week, and to be told the value of saving a part of it.

Of course very young children may not be allowed to choose their own clothes, but training along this line may begin very early and a sense of values and suitability may be instilled.

Three grown girls in a certain family were given the same allowance for clothes, books, amusements, entertainment of friends, etc. At the end of the first month May had spent all of her allowance and stated that she had nothing to show for it. Jane had saved one-half of hers and deposited it in the bank. She had denied herself some badly needed clothing and bought a few showy articles with the amount spent. She had accepted entertainment from friends but was too stingy with her own money to entertain in return. Sarah produced an account book and showed that she had bought all the necessary articles of clothing, enjoyed several well chosen entertainments, and had purchased two War Savings Stamps, paying four per cent compound interest.

These are typical, and the information gathered from the first month enabled the father and mother to show May the folly of wasteful and careless expenditure, Jane the importance of providing necessities first and the virtue of generosity, and to commend Sarah for her unusual business ability and sense of thrift.

MEXICANS KIDNAP

William G. Jenkins, American consular agent at Pueblo, Mexico, was kidnapped by three masked bandits Friday at Pueblo and is being held for $150.000 ransom, the State Department was advised yesterday.

The American embassy has been informed by the Mexican foreign office that the government would take all possible steps to affect the liberation of Jenkins. The American embassy has been authorized to detail a member of its staff to Pueblo to assist in obtaining the agent's release.

The dispatch received by the department quotes the Mexico City newspaper, Excelsior, as reporting that the bandits entered a factory owned by Jenkins, gagged and tied the watchman, forced the safe and robbed it of 60,000 pesos, and then took Jenkins away with them. The bandits are reported to have told Mrs. Jenkins that they were rebels and would hold her husband for 300,000 pesos ransom. They said that Jenkins would not be harmed if there was no attempt to pursue the abductors.

RESERVATIONS ADOPTED

Senate Committee Also Provides Allies Must Accept Before Pact Is Effective.

Washington, Oct. 23.—Reopening its consideration of the peace treaty, the Senate Foreign Relations Committee adopted yesterday 10 revised reservations, including a provision that the Senate qualifications must be accepted by three of the other great powers before the treaty ratification becomes effective.

Among them was a new proposal which Administration Senators declared would break down the economic boycott feature of the League of Nations covenant, and a reservation on Article 10, differing only in the transposition of one phrase from that which President Wilson has announced he would treat as a rejection of the treaty.

The 10 reservations were part of a list presented by Chairman Lodge, and declared by the Republican leaders to represent a compromise behind which a majority of the Senate is pledged to stand. The Administration members of the committee, headed by Democratic Leader Hitchcock tried in vain to secure modification of the majority proposals and then voted solidly against all of them.

Showing for the first time, however a willingness to include reservations of an interpretative character in the ratification resolution, Seator Hitchcock and his colleagues offered substitutes for several of the reservations presented, but not a single substitution or change was made at their suggestion.

The 10 subjects covered by the reservations were:

Withdrawal from League membership; Article 10; the right of Congress to authorize mandates; national supremacy over domestic questions; the Monroe Doctrine; Shantung; limitations on the Reparations Commission; the power of Congress to determine contributions to League expenses; the right to increase armament in certain circumstances, and the right to continue trade with a covenant-breaking state.

In the vote on every one of these reservations, Senator McCumber, Republican, North Dakota, who had stood with the "mild reservationists" against all previous committee proposals, voted with the majority. In every case, too, Senator Shields, Democrat, of Tennessee, voted with the Republicans, the count on all important roll calls relating to the reservations standing 11 to 6.

MYSTERIOUS MEN CONFER

London, Oct. 23.—The former German Emperer, and the former Crown Prince are concerned in the intrigues of the German Royalists, the political correspondent of the Daily Mail asserts. "The ex-Emperor," says the writer, "is far from leading a life of detachment from German affairs. He has recently seen a number of mysterious visitors from Germany and is receiving many telegrams."

MAY JOIN STEEL MEN

Pittsburgh, Pa., Oct. 23.—Steel strike leaders here last night prepared to take advantage of what they termed the consent of union railroad employed on steel railroads to join the strike.

Organizers under the leadership of J. M. Patterson, a member of the strike committee representing the railroaders, have been busy, it was said, for weeks, and many such employes have indicated their willingness to join the movement.

W. Z. Foster, secretary of the national committee, estimated last night that 1,500 employes of the union railroad, which connects the Pittsburgh district plants of the United States Steel Corporation, would walk out.

Representatives of the steel companies said their reports indicated little change in the situation.

Youngstown, Ohio. Oct. 23.—Disorder due to the employment of negroes as strikebreakers which broke out in several parts of the city late Tuesday night continued yesterday morning. Fights broke out in Poland avenue, near the sheet and tube plant and in West avenue, near the Ohio works, when negroes, according to report, drew revolvers and knives on pickets and strikers. Eighteen arrests have been made, seven of them colored men, all armed. The whites were not armed.

The kidneys are the most important organs of the body. They are the filterers of your blood. If the poisons which are swept from the tissues by the blood are not eliminated through the kidneys, disease of one form or another will claim you as a victim.

Kidney disease is usually indicated by weariness, sleeplessness, nervousness, despondency, backache, stomach trouble, pain in loins and lower abdomen, gall stones, gravel, rheumatism, sciatica and lumbago.

All these derangements are nature's signals that the kidneys need help. You should use GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules immediately. The soothing, healing oil stimulates the kidneys, relieves inflammation and destroys the germs which have caused it. Go to your druggist today and get a box of GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. In twenty-four hours you should feel health and vigor returning.

After you feel somewhat improved continue to take one or two capsules each day, so as to keep the first-class condition and ward off the danger of other attacks.

Sec. 32. Every person qualified to vote shall be eligible to any office of the State, or of any county, city, town or other subdivision of the State, wherein he resides, except as otherwise provided in this Constitution, and except that this provision as to residence shall not apply to any office elective by the people where the law provides otherwise. And insert in lieu thereof the following:

Men and women eighteen years of age shall be eligible to the office of notary public and qualified to execute the bonds required of them in that capacity.

The general assembly may, in its discretion provide for the compulsory education of children between the ages of eight and twelve years, except such as are weak in body or mind, or can read and write, or are attending private schools, or are excused for cause by the district school trustees.

And insert in lieu thereof the following:

Section 138. The general assembly may, in its discretion, provide for the compulsory education of children of school age.

A RESOLUTION proposing amendment to section 117 of article 8 of the Constitution of Virginia, and providing for publishing said amendment and certifying the same to the next general assembly.

Resolved by the senate and the house of delegates (a majority of the members elected to each house agreeing thereto), That the following amendment to the Constitution of Virginia be, and the same is hereby, proposed and referred to the general assembly to be chosen at the next general election of senators and members of the house of delegates, for its concurrence, in conformity to the provisions of section one hundred and ninety-six of article fifteen of said Constitution, namely:

Strike out from the Constitution of Virginia section one hundred and seventeen, which is in the words and figures following, to-wit:

Section 117. General laws for the organization and government of cities and towns shall be enacted by the general assembly, and no special act shall be passed in relation thereto, except in the manner provided in article four of this Constitution, and then only by a recorded vote of two-thirds of the members elected to each house; and except also in the case of cities having more than fifty thousand inhabitants, as hereinafter provided. But each of the cities and towns of the State having at the time of the adoption of this amendment a municipal charter may retain the same, except so far as it shall be repealed or amended by the general assembly; provided, that every such charter is hereby amended so as to conform to all the provisions, restrictions, limitations and powers set forth in this article, or otherwise provided in this Constitution.

Notwithstanding, however, anything in this article contained the general assembly may, by general law or by special act (passed as prescribed in article four of this Constitution), depart in any respect (except as otherwise in this section expressly provided) from the form of organization and government prescribed by this article for cities and towns, and may provide, from time to time, for the various cities and towns of the Commonwealth such form or forms of municipal government as the general assembly may deem best; but no form or forms of government authorized by the second paragraph of this section shall become operative except as to such cities or towns as may thereafter adopt the same by a majority vote of its qualified electors at an election to be held as may be prescribed therefor by law. All the limitations on the powers of the councils of cities and towns imposed by this article shall apply in like manner to the principal legislative authority under any form of government which may be authorized hereunder. The term "council" as used in sections one hundred and twenty-five and one hundred and twenty-seven of this Constitution shall be construed to include the body which, under any form of municipal government, shall be vested with the principal legislative authority of such municipality.

The general assembly, for the purpose of this article, may classify cities according to their population, but the maximum population prescribed for any class shall exceed the minimum population for the same class by at least ten thousand. The general assembly, at the request, made in manner which may be prescribed by law, of any city having a population of over fifty thousand inhabitants, may grant a special form of government for such city.

Any laws or charters enacted pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be subject to the provisions of this Constitution relating expressly to judges and clerks of courts, attorneys for the Commonwealth, commissioners of revenue, city treasurer and city sergeants.

And insert in lieu thereof the following:

Sec. 117. (a) General laws for the organization and government of cities and towns shall be enacted by the general assembly, and no special act shall be passed in relation thereto, except in the manner provided in article four of this Constitution, and then only by a recorded vote of two-thirds of the members elected to each house. But each of the cities and towns of the State having, at the time of the adoption of this Constitution, a municipal charter may retain the same, except so far as it shall be repealed or amended by the general assembly; provided, that every such charter is hereby amended to conform to all the provisions, restrictions, limitations and powers set forth in this article, or otherwise provided in this Constitution.

(b) The general assembly may, by general law or by special act (passed in the manner provided in article four of this Constitution), provide for the organization and government of cities and towns without regard to, and unaffected by, any of the provisions of this article, except the provisions of sections one hundred and twenty-four, one hundred and twenty-five (except as far as the provisions of section one hundred and twenty-five regarding the office of mayor and the power of veto), one hundred and twenty-six, one hundred and twenty-seven and one hundred and twenty-eight of this article, and except those mentioned in sub-section (d) of this section. The general assembly may in any of said sections abridge the body vested with the principal legislative authority for the city or town, and all ordinances or other legislative enactments passed by such body shall have the same force and effect as now or shall hereafter be enacted or adopted in accordance with the provisions of section one hundred and twenty-three of this article. But such organization and government shall apply only to such cities or towns as may thereafter adopt the same by a majority vote of those qualified voters of any such city or town voting in an election to be held for the purpose, as may be provided by law.

(c) The general assembly, at the request of any city or town made in manner provided by law, may grant to it any special form of organization and government authorized by sub-section (b) of this section, and subject to all of the provisions of that sub-section, except that it shall not be necessary for such city or town to thereafter adopt the same.

(d) Any laws or charters enacted pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be subject to the provisions of this Constitution relating expressly to judges and clerks of courts, attorneys for the Commonwealth, commissioners of revenue, city treasurers and city sergeants.

(e) Any form of organization and government authorized by any provision of this section which may have been adopted heretofore by any city or town pursuant to any act of the general assembly enacted before such provision became effective, and which is now in operation, is hereby declared legal and valid ab initio, and shall have the same force and effect as if it had been authorized by this Constitution at the time of its adoption.

A RESOLUTION proposing amendment to section 133 of article 9 of the Constitution of Virginia.

Resolved by the house of delegates, the senate concurring (the majority of the members elected to each house agreeing thereto), That the following amendment to section one hundred and thirty-three, article nine, of the Constitution of Virginia, be and is hereby, proposed and referred to the general assembly at the first regular session held after the next general election of members of the house of delegates for its concurrence in conformity with the provisions of section one hundred and ninety-six, of article fifteen of said Constitution, namely:

Strike out from the Constitution of Virginia section one hundred and thirty-three of article nine, which is in the following words:

Section 133. Each magisterial district shall constitute a separate school district, unless otherwise provided by law. In each school district there shall be three trustees selected, in the manner and for the term of office prescribed by law.

And insert in lieu thereof the following:

Men and women may serve as school trustees in said districts, and in cities and in towns forming separate school districts.

And insert in lieu thereof the following:

A RESOLUTION proposing an amendment to section 136 of article 9 of the Constitution of Virginia, and providing for publishing said amendment and certifying the same to the next session of the general assembly.

Resolved by the house of delegates, the senate concurring (a majority of the members elected to each house agreeing), That the following amendment to the Constitution of Virginia be, and the same is hereby, proposed, and referred to the general assembly to be chosen at the next general election of members of the house of delegates, for its concurrence, in conformity with the provisions of section one hundred and ninety-six, of article fifteen, of the said Constitution, namely:

Strike out from the Constitution of Virginia section one hundred and thirty-six, which is in the following words:

Section 136. Each county, city, town, if the same be a separate school district, and school district is authorized to raise additional sums by a tax on property, not to exceed in the aggregate five mills on the dollar in any one year, to be apportioned and expended by the local school authorities of said counties, cities, towns and districts in establishing and maintaining such schools as in their judgment the public welfare may require; provided, that such primary schools as may be established in any school year, shall be maintained at least four months of that school year, before any part of the fund assessed and collected may be devoted to the establishment of schools of higher grade. The boards of supervisors of the several counties, and the councils of the several cities, and towns if the same be separate school districts, shall provide for the levy and collection of such local school taxes.

And insert in lieu thereof the following:

JOHN W. WILLIAMS,

Clerk House of Delegates of Virginia.

TO MERGE CHURCH WORK

P. E. Convention Creates Executive Board of 24 Members

Detroit, Oct. 23.—Supervision of church work has been delegated by the teriennial general convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church to five departments, under the direction of an executive board of 24 bishops, clergy and laity. The House of Bishops is acting today on a new canon to this effect, already adopted by the House of Deputies.

Under the new canon the work of the board of missions, commission on social service and board of religious education would be centralized under the new board with the presiding bishop as its head. The board will be made up of four bishops, four presbyters, eight laymen and eight representatives, to be named by the provincial synods.

The five departments created are those of missions and church extension, social service, religious education, finance and publicity. Women will be eligible to seats in each department. Four meetings each year are provided for.

Constructive advertising and publicity work for the church will be conducted under the direction of the new publicity department. The old board of missions is entirely done away with.

The House of Deputies yesterday morning, in executive session, ratified House of Bishops of the missionary bishops.

The House of Deputies yesterday afternoon debated the concordat with the Congregation Church, whereby ministers of the latter may be ordained to preach in the Episcopal faith and the necessary amendments to the church constitution to make it possible to adopt the agreement.

POPE DISTURBED

Rome, Oct. 23.—Pope Benedict, it is learned, is greatly embarrassed by the request of the British envoy to the Vatican to refuse ratification by the Holy See of the election of Mgr. Maginnis, the Irish priest, as general of the Order of the Carmelites.

The argument advanced by the British envoy is that the election of the Irishman would tend to stir up trouble against the British government. The Pope is temporarily delaying the ratification but admits his embarrassment in solving the problem in a way satisfactory to Britain without offending the ancient religious order for there is no precedent for a refusal of the Vatican's ratification.

Thanks Local Engineer for Part in War

WAR DEPARTMENT
Office of the Chief of Engineers
Washington

Lieut. Daniel H. Rucker, Engrs.,
Clarendon, Va.

Sir:

I. The demobilization of the army having made further sacrifice on your part unnecessary, I wish to convey to you my appreciation of your efforts in behalf of your country during the recent emergency. The Engineers of the United States have by their patriotic and self-sacrificing conduct well merited greater thanks and appreciation than it is possible for me or any other one man to give them. I am sure, however, that when it is possible to relate in full the efforts and accomplishments of American Engineers, both overseas and in this country, that the people of the United States will show appreciation of their efforts in no uncertain terms.

2. That you have been one of these Engineers and have contributed your part toward this successful accomplishment constitutes in itself an honor greater than any official expression of opinion. Permit me, however, to extend to you my personal thanks and those of the Corps of Engineers for your efforts and assistance.

Very respectfully,
W. M. BLACK,
Major General, Chief of Engineers.

Lieut. Rucker has done his "bit" toward making the world safe for democracy, as the above letter shows. He is now making a bid for your patronage—carrying out the same principles of fair dealing that earned him this personal letter from the Chief of Engineers. The Alexandria Lumber Co., is in business to serve the public and a personal visit to our plant will prove this. You are sure of a hearty welcome.

Frank B. Howard
Well known local groceryman, the purchaser.

Having purchased the stock and good will of the Alexandria Cash Grocery Co., S. W. corner King and Washington streets (Brawner and Bros. old stand) I beg to announce to the Citizens of Alexandria that I will continue said business under present system, viz: Cash and Carry.

This system enables the housekeeper to reduce the high cost of living. The cash system means that the dealer selling for cash, also buys for cash, which enables him to buy cheaper and take the advantage of all cash discounts.

The carry system means a saving in expense to the dealer of one hundred and fifty dollars per month, which is quite an item, and the saving in these expenses I will give to the public by reducing prices accordingly. I will carry a complete line of the purest food products and the freshest fruits and vegetables.

I was formerly in business at 822 King street until called in the army, March 29, 1918, I was born and reared in Alexandria, educated in the public schools of Alexandria and I ask your help in making my business a success, and ask for a share of your patronage, and hope to see all my old customers and a store full of new ones.

Provisions for housing from 500 to 1,000 skilled mechanics whose services will be needed for the successful operation of the naval torpedo plant, now rapidly nearing completion here, must be made in the near future, Rear Admiral Ralph Earle, chief of the bureau of ordnance, told a committee of the Alexandria Chamber of Commerce who called on him at the Navy Department on Monday, and as a consequence, it is expected that a meeting of business men will be called in the next few days for the purpose of acting upon Admiral Earle's suggestion. The committee, composed of M. B. Harlow, and W. Albert Smoot, was accompanied by Capt. William S. Miller, U. S. N., who is in charge of the torpedo station here. Admiral Earle told the committee that 80 per cent of the employes at the torpedo plant would be skilled mechanics who would in all probability become permanent residents of Alexandria. It is stated that about 100 persons are now employed at the plant and the force will be increased at the rate of about 100 a month for the next several months.

London, Oct. 23.—The Bolshevist forces have been flung back in the Ksmyshin section, losing 3,000 men, who were taken prisoner, and many machine guns, according to General Denikine's wireless communication. Extremely fierce fighting is reported in that district.

A Bolshevist wireless message from Moscow says that volunteers are arriving at Petrograd continuously from the remotest Russian villages and are forming special detachments. Among them are numerous women. The same message says that Admiral Kolchak in his retreat to Petropavlosk destroyed nearly 3,000,000 tons of newly cut grain.

WILL FIGHT TO A FINISH

Railroad Employes Insist on Increased Wages and Improved Working Conditions

Railroad employes are prepared for a finish fight with the Railroad Administration for increased wages, time and a half overtime and improved working conditions before the government surrenders the roads to private control.

Unmistakable notice to this effect had been served by Timothy Shea, of the firemen, appearing before the board of railway wages and working conditions.

"If our demands for a living wage should not be met when the time approaches for turning back the roads to their private owners," Shea said in testimony which became public last night, "we shall demand as a condition precedent to the change the realization of the fundament rights of labor, the living wage, the eight hour day on all Federal controlled roads, time and one half for overtime, and other principles to which the government pledged itself during the war, which have now been made a part of the treaty of peace and which so far the railroad administration has never fulfilled."

While Shea was appearing on behalf of the firemen only, it has been recognized generally that wage increases for any one class of railroad employes means an advance for all to maintain equality between the workers.

Won't Debate With Plumb

Richmond, Va., Oct. 23.—Representative A. J Montague, of Virginia, yesterday declined the challenge extended to him Tuesday by Central Trades and Labor Council of Richmond to enter a joint debate over the merits of the Plum plan for operating railroads with Glenn Plumb, author of the plan.

THEATRES

RICHMOND THEATRE

Produced by that master craftsman of the screen, Albert Capellani, as the initial starring vehicle for Creighton Hale and June Caprice, in the first of the Albert Capellani Productions for release through Pathe Exchange, Inc., "Oh Boy!" to be seen tonight at the Richmond Theatre, will bring together on one screen an aggregation of luminaries whose contribution to the production in support of the two co stars will stamp this as one of the greatest photoplay attractions ever offered to the public. Here are just a few of the principal members of the all star cast: Creighton Hale, June Caprice Zena Keefe and Flora Finch.

"Oh Boy!" is a screen version of the big musical comedy of the same name, which ran in New York for nearly two years, and almost as long in Chicago. Seven road companies are now touring the country, duplicating the success scored by the piece in the Eastern and Western metropolitan centres.

Mr. Capellani in translating "Oh Boy!" to the screen brought to the production all of the deft artistic and human touches which have contributed so largely to his previous big successes, the most recent of which is "The Red Lantern," with Madame Nazimova as the star.

At the Ingomar Wm. S. Hart will be seen in "The Patriot."
